No Refunds Policy

Due to the bespoke nature of the intellectual property and service you will be receiving from me, there will be absolutely no refunds for this intellectual property and service. This is also done as a safeguard for my product and service to prevent plagiarism and intellectual property theft.

With this in mind, it is my mission as your coach to provide you with a product and service so good that you'll have no desire to ever want a refund. However, at any time, you are free to end your patronage with myself and my service. Still, no refunds will be given under any circumstance. Thank you for your cooperation and understanding in this matter. If you agree to the terms as stated please sign below.

In Strength and Kindness,
Luke McBroom, CPT
